Dear Casey:

Thank you for submitting your course to our office for review. It is my pleasure to notify you that the NAHI Education Committee has completed their review of your programs.

The National Association of Home Inspectors, Inc. (NAHI) receives numerous phone calls from home inspectors seeking educational opportunities for training in the home inspection field. NAHI does not approve or accept "certification" by any home inspection company. However, upon a complete review of a company's training course, NAHI gives varying degrees of credit toward NAHI membership and/or renewal for completion of approved training courses.

Casey O'Malley Associates' courses have been approved for the following NAHI Continuing Education Units (CEU's):

- | | |
|---|----------|
| • 2009 IRC Review Course | 16 CEU's |
| • COA Conference | 24 CEU's |
| • Commercial Inspection Management Course | 16 CEU's |

What does this mean for your company? Any NAHI member, who completes your educational program will receive credit toward their annual CEU requirement.

If you should have any questions regarding the above, please feel free to contact us.

Sincerely,
